

Society

Harriet Dunn Bentley. Office Phone W. 4019

Miss Rose Stewart will entertain Thursday evening at a function to honor her guest, Miss Adrienne Junius of Council Grove, Kan.

Mrs. Debie Brownson of Fort Worth Tex., arrived Saturday to spend the holiday season with Mrs. Evelyn J. Ladd.

Twenty little orphan children from the Sunbeam Orphanage house for a festive day Saturday when they were the guests of Master John Vates. Lee Hawkins for luncheon at the Lee Hawkins. Everybody indulged in the way of delicacies and gorged down to the heart of childhood. Fine table and never was there a more appetitive party of luncheons seen.

Mrs. Hawkins was assisted by Mrs. Emma Lee Harrison, Mrs. Joseph Rumsey and Miss Dorothy Clegg, all of whom little son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hawkins for luncheon at the Lee Hawkins. Everybody indulged in the way of delicacies and gorged down to the heart of childhood. Fine table and never was there a more appetitive party of luncheons seen.

Mrs. Hawkins was assisted by Mrs. Emma Lee Harrison, Mrs. Joseph Rumsey and Miss Dorothy Clegg, all of whom little son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hawkins for luncheon at the Lee Hawkins. Everybody indulged in the way of delicacies and gorged down to the heart of childhood. Fine table and never was there a more appetitive party of luncheons seen.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

Miss Dorothy Carter entered on the Monday-Winter club Monday afternoon, smilingly ready to present to Mrs. E. Bird Hunter and Dunbar Clark, who were also the recipients of the favors for the service. The next regular meeting will be January 10th, the holiday being postponed later in the month.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Ross who spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Carter, returned Sunday morning to their home in Dodge City.

The members of the Shakespeare club gathered Monday afternoon with Mrs. George R. Fisher and made and filled thirty bags for the Municipal Christmas tree.

The members of the Shakespeare club gathered Monday afternoon with Mrs. George R. Fisher and made and filled thirty bags for the Municipal Christmas tree.

Mrs. Phoebe Hunter of Tulsa, a member of the club, left for a visit with Mrs. A. D. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Knobell made a day for a holiday visit at Shreveport, La., before returning to Dallas.

Mrs. Donald Hodges returned yesterday from St. Louis where she was to attend to the business of her mother, Mrs. Donald Hodges.

A party who included Messrs. W. E. Price of Chickasha, Robert Johnson, R. C. Miller and Bert Hargrave returned Saturday from a week's vacation near Marlow, Okla. Mr. Price will have this evening for his home in Chicago.

The members of the Old Colony club were entertained Monday afternoon by Mrs. F. J. Delano, who had also given a week's vacation to other club members. The weather was cold, with a high wind blowing from the northwest.

Mrs. Phoebe Hunter of Tulsa, a member of the club, left for a visit with Mrs. A. D. Johnson.

Mrs. Joseph Hawkins and son, Robert Thornton, returned Saturday from Tampa, Fla., where they visited Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Fossman.

The chair of St. Lukes will give a concert this evening at the church.

The dinner at the Lee Hawkins Saturday evening was attended by a large number of boys and girls from the holidays, from which the time for the Christmas dinner has been changed from 4 to 6 o'clock and will last until 6:30.

Miss Zetta Hammer, of Lawrence, Kan., arrived Monday and is the guest of Mrs. C. A. Greenlee, of 24 West Eighteenth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Thompson have removed from their former residence at 1113 North Harvey avenue to 412 West Ninth street, where they have taken apartments.

On account of the joyous Christmas season, the Oklahoma Chorus will not meet again until the first Tuesday in January.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hurst, formerly of this city, but now of Billings, Mont., are visiting relatives and friends in the city.

Mrs. I. S. Mahan has returned from a visit with relatives in La Porte, Ind., stopping over en route to Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Wynne Ervin left today for a visit with relatives in Missoula.

Mr. Edgar C. Nichols, who has been the guest of his son and wife Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey D. Nichols, left Sunday for his home in Chicago. Mr. E. C. Nichols, of Kalama, Mich., arrived Monday to remain for a week with Mr. and Mrs. Nichols.

Mrs. William Kendall left Monday for Blackwell, Okla., to spend Christmas with relatives where Mr. Kendall will join her later in the week.

The members of the Saturday Evening Bridge club were entertained Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Finch. Christmas bells and flowers decked the apartments and the top scores were made by Mrs. Frank Harrell, and Mr. C. T. Ingalls. The club will meet New Year's night with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harrell.

Mr. and Mrs. Masding Sidney Moore, of Fort Worth, announce the birth of a baby daughter, Friday, December 17. Mrs. Moore was formerly Miss. Elaine Buxton, of this city.

Mrs. Owen J. Macfield entertained with a magazine party Saturday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Homer J. Wilkins. The house was attractively decorated with flowers and mistletoe. The guests were dressed to represent well known magazines, and Mrs. Leslie Marchant was the favor of a fancy work bag for guessing correctly the greatest number. Musical numbers were given by Mrs. Leon B. Ardrey and Mrs. Deanne Ward, and Mrs. Ardrey also gave a talk on "The Moral Education of the Child." Mrs. J. R. Markham also gave the violin in another magazine costume, received a subscription of a music box manuscript. Mrs. Markham also presented the testoress in evening gowns. Mabel, the dog, was given a special treat.

The first annual program will be Christmas day, with the theme of 300 children, and the program of the week will be on Christmas Day evening. The "Kodak" of Oklahoma band will play a selection of carols music. Monday evening the Apollo club will have a program of the best of the Oklahoma bands. Thursday evening will be the "Kodak" of the Dayton Arms band, and the Shriners band will begin its program at 8 p.m.

Arrangements are now made to place posters in prominent places telling of the musical and dramatic performances, and music will be expressed by all the choirs and part of the municipal Christmas program.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Muller, and

Misses Mary and Helen Muller, and

Misses Anna and Mary Muller, will attend the program.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in making and filling three dozen bags for the Municipal Christmas tree after which the old-time iconic trees to the Empress, where the remaining 4000 bags were stored.

The Philadelphians dined Monday evening with Mrs. H. M. Walker, the evening being spent by the members in